

Pastor Marie interpretation of tongues / 09.19.21 PM

I said the hour cometh and now is. It is not redundant or repetitious it is a place that you can now occupy in the Spirit. You must step out to step in, and yes 2022 has already begun you must be as I said all in, one with the plan of my Son.

Faith in me is believing in what you cannot see. If all you do is to look at what you can see then you will not be able to believe. Look to me, look to My Word there is a place in the Spirit that you must hear, and you have already heard. Step in and a new day for you begins.

These are the things that pertains to the Spirit. These are the things that will remain. These are the things that you must take by the reigns and move on with into this new day. The plan of my Son, all in, you must be one.
